"All-in-one English Learning Device for Children"

The most effective way to learn English is during childhood day. Children are used to copying what they heard and saw. You can build on what your child is learning while playing a toy or games for kid, watching video and playing songs and connect it to their own experiences. The objective of this study is to provide all in one English language learning device for children and help parents teach their child speak in English language. The researcher uses the designed thinking process, validation process and SDLC in conducting the research study. Also qualitative research method was applied. Conducting survey and interview, validating the result and pivot for the efficient and reliable output will come up to this study. As the result, parents really want to have this kind of device.
